

Regent's International School, Bangkok

Regent's International School, Bangkok, one of Thailand's leading international schools, is a day and boarding school for 2 to 18 years old, passionate about developing the whole person through academic, physical, cultural and social experiences. We are guided by the British curriculum from Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) leading to IGCSEs. Post 16 we adopt the IB (International Baccalaureate) Diploma Programme.

Job title : Part time Instrumental teacher (1 or 2 days per week)

Job Aim : to teach 1:1 and small group private instrumental lessons across primary school.

Part time (1 or 2 day a week) vacancies are available for:

- Guitar teacher
- Singing teacher
- Violin teacher

Job description :

- You are enthusiastic and passionate about teaching your instrument.
- You have high levels of musicianship and knowledge of your specialist instrument.
- You are willing to teach small groups and participate in extra-curricular ensembles, across primary and secondary school.
- You have experience of taking pupils through recognised examinations and have clear progression routes ensuring every pupil makes the progress they are capable of.
- You understand the importance of building excellent relationships with pupils, parents and schools.
- You have the ability to maintain high professional standards at all times including excellent timekeeping, timesheet and register administration, clear and timely communication with schools, parents and students.
- You regularly evaluate your own teaching and enjoy adapting your methods to suit the individual needs of each pupil. You feel you are always learning.
- You are reliable and looking to join a close team
- You are flexible and able to work occasional evenings and weekends where necessary.
- your friends would describe you as loyal, honest, hardworking and a pleasant person to be around.

Please forward your CV to tara.berryman@regents.ac.th by Wednesday 6th September
Early entries may be considered prior to deadline.

Interviews to be held the week beginning 11th September.